Supervisor Bigelow Is Preparing Camps

Seven hundred men in the great peace army of 250,000 men unemployed now being recruited under authority of Congress and by order of President Roosevelt, have been assigned to the Tahoe Forest and Forest Supervisor R. L. P. Bigelow of this city is making provisions for their care. He has leased, for the Federal government, three hotels, one at Sierra City, a second at Sierraville, and a third at North Bloomfield. In addition to these hotels he will built five tent camps of sufficient capacity to take of all those who are assigned to this district.

These men will be employed at a dollar a day, with board, lodging and old clothes provided them, in erecting needed buildings, clearing fire trails, clearing rights of way, constructing roads, opening motor trails, stringing telephone lines, and roadside cleaning.

This regiment of the peace army. Mr. Bigelow states will probably put forward the development program in Tahoe National Forest by at least ten years. Long cherished plans for the establishment of tourist camps, the opening new areas of the Sierra wonderland by motor road and trail.

The men to be employed in the California National Forests will number between 20,000 and 30,000 men. As many more will be employed by the State and by the National Park Service. All told, it is expected, Mr. Bigelow states, that 50,000 men will be recruited in California for the Roosevelt peace army of workers.

The reason but 700 men have thus far been assigned to Tahoe Forest is that the development program of this district is much further advanced than in other National Forests.

This great Army will do several things to lift the load of the depression. It will remove from the cities the overplus of unemployed and thereby relieve the Red Cross and other charity agencies of much of their present burden. It will stabilize labor conditions in the larger cities and give an opportunity for married men to obtain steadier employment. It will create a large market for all varieties of live stock, canned fruits and dairy products, and thereby stimulate better conditions for farmers. It's immediate effect in the National Forest and State park will be to make accessible a far greater area for the motor tourists, campers, sportsmen and sightseers, and hence prevent that congestion which is already oppressive during the summer time in certain favorite localities in the Sierras.

Supervisor Bigelow announced that at the Bloomfield hotel he would have accomodations for 50 men, at the Sierraville hotel for 100 men and at the Sierra City hotel, 75 men will be accomodated. He will establish tent camps as follows: At Skillam Flat near Junction House, there will be a camp for 150 men; at Truckee a camp for 100 men; on the Poker Flat road, 20 miles above Downieville will be a camp for 50 men; there will be two camps on the Forest Hill Divide of 50 men each. Others will form mobile forces in smaller camps.

The men for Roosevelts army will be recruited under the Department of Labor, brought to mobilization camps, where under the War Department they will be equipped and medically examined. They will then be sent to the various National Forest camps of the state.

HI ATHLETES IN BIG TRACK MEET

A large Nevada City delegation is planning to leave this city tomorrow to attend the track meet of the Sierra Foothill league which will be held in Auburn. Much interest in this classic event is manifested because ethis is the first time in several years that Nevada City high school hah entered a team in the league meet. Bev. Barron, coach, has worked hard to bring the boys into condition for this event, and the hopes of the Nevada City lads are nigh that they will gather points enough to put this city on the athletic map.

Six teams will compete for laurels tomorrow. In the Nevada City team the following athletes are included:

A TEAM

100 yards, Chapman.
220 yards, Moore.
440 yards, Pierce and Moore.
880 yards, Flindt and Chapman.
120 yard high hurdles, Oates.
12 pound shot put, Cosci.
Football throw, Pierce and Oates.
High jump, Schiffner.

GOLDEN CENTER TO DRIVE LONG TUNNEL

Extensive plans of development are reported from the Golden Center mine. The Cooley Butler interests following the remarkable strike made with the shot intended to be the last, have now determined it is reliably stated, to push a tunnel 700 feet long through Church hill into the cotia ground, owned by the same interests.

COMMITTEE TO PLAN HIGHWAY BEAUTIFICATION

The Eagles have sponsored a movement for the beautification of the highway between Grass Valley and Nevada City. This movement has the endorsement of the Grass Valley and Nevada City Chambers of Commerce and is in line with the state-wide campaign to make all California highways more attractive for those who use them.

A committee consisting of Mayor R. J. Bennetts of this city, C. E. Parsons of the Felix Gillet nursery, and C. O. Brown, has been named to draw up plans for roadside planting and other improvements for beautifying the Grass Valley-Nevada City highway.

A highway beautification program, involving expenditures of approximately $2,000,000 over a ten year period, is recommended by the state division of highways in a report to the legislature.

The report, issued in accordance with a resolution adopted by the 1931 legislature, declares tree planting is the most popular and effective means of roadside beautification. Recommendation is made that the mileage along which trees are planted, now totaling 700, be increased to 1,600.

In this regard, the report states, most of the trees already lining the state highways have been planted and maintained for the first year by private individualls or public spirited organizations. The average cost of planting was placed at $1.25 and maintenance from $1 to $3.50 annually per tree.

Regulation of "eye sores" on highway approaches to cities, such as dilapidated service stations, public dumps, and wrecking yards is recommended in the report, which also deals severely with the billboard problem.

Committees of Native Sons in Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of Native Son committees was held last evening in Grass Valley to render reports. Committees reported from Quartz Parlor of Grass Valley and Hydraulic Parlor of Nevada City. The delegation attending from this city consisted of R. L. P. Bigelow, Dr. C. W. Chapman, Elza Kilroy, George Neagel, Miles Coughlin and E. J. Baker.

Mrs. Mary Marshall, who has been in Sacramento undergoing treatment for illness, has returned to her home, and is reported much improved.

WIFE ALLEGES HUSBAND TRIED TO CHOKE HER

Mrs. Gina Furano and Jos Marchetti were roused Wednesday from their sleep in the Furano household in Sacramento street, by the entrance of Angelo Furano, estranged husband of Mrs. Furano, and attacked.

Furano, who has been separted from his wife for some months and has been living in Jackson, entered his former home at 12:30 a. m.

Marchetti, Mrs. Furano called the sheriff's office, following an altercation with Furano, and alleged that Furnao had grabbed Marchetti by the coat collar threatening to kill him ,and that he had seized Mrs. Furano by the throat, choaking her and threatening death. Sheriff Carter responded to the call, but Furano had fled.

Furano was arrested in Grass Valley early yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Rickard and Sheriff George Carter and lodged in jail. A complaint charging him with threats of personal injury and threats to kill. was lodged against him.

A proceeding to bind him over to keep the peace was instituted in Justice of the Peace W. L. Mobley's court yesterday afternoon, and was continued until this afternoon on plea of the defendant for more time in which to prevent his evidence. Assistant District Attorney Robert Tharp acceded to the request.

STRONG BACKING FOR SKI CLUB

The Ski Association will receive the combined support of the Nevada City and Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce. This was decided at a meeting Tuesday evening in Grass Valley when directors of the two bodies endorsed the proposed benefit dance to be given May 13 for the Ski Association.

At this meeting the following committe of nine, three each from the two chambers ,and three from the Ski Association was appointed; Nevada City Chamber—Mayor Mobley, Howard Penrose, and R. R. Goyne. This committee has charge of all arrangements for the big benefit affair.

AXE WEILDER OF TRUCKEE JAILED

Deputy Sheriff Nettle returned Wednesday from Los Angeles with Joe Mandell, the Truckee barber who attempted to kill his wife with an axe. Mandell fled from Truckee with two little nieces and was discovered by the police in front of the Hollywood high school in that city, following an attempt at suicide.

Mandell shot himself in the head but the barrel of his revolver was held at such an angle that the bullet glanced along his skull. When he recovers a little more fully, he will be taken to Truckee for arraignment.

Inmates of the county jail now facing felony charges are Mandall, Norman Godchaux, grand theft; Ray and Walter Ferry, burglary; Pat Hughes, robbery; and Harry Jones convicted of manslaughter and awaiting transportation to Folsom.

PAY GRAVEL FOUND ON THOMAS TRACT

Leasers on the Thomas tract are reported to have struck pay gravel in their drift adjoining the old Alta Hill channel. Mat Patrick of grass Valley is the owner of the property.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Katzer, former residents and now of Gridley, spent Sunday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oliver and other relatives.

City To Ballot On Pool Fund Switch

Declaring there were just three ways that the city council can make the necessary repairs and replacements to the city water system which are imperative, the city council last evening passed a resolution declaring the need of an election and will proceed to hold the election as soon as the legal preliminaries can be completed.

The election will be upon the question of transferring the swimming pool bond money to the city water fund. City Clerk George Calanan estimated that the cost of the election would not exceed $75.

Council Wade Armstrong stated that there were just three ways in which the city council could find the money to make the necessary repairs to the water system. These were:

1. To transfer the swimming pool fund to the city water fund by a two thirds majority vote of the city's electors.

2. To increase the water rates to a point that would meet the cost of repairs.

3. To raise the city tax rate sufficiently to meet the cost of water system repairs.

All the councilmen stated that they believed it would be impossible to obtain a two thirds vote in favor of transferring the swimming pool fund to other uses, but that they felt the peopl eshould be given a opportunity to express their will. If the people fail to approve this transfer, then the council expects to proceed to raise sufficient money by one or the other of the two remaining alternatives, namely an increase in water rates, or an increase in city taxes.

None of the councilmen stated what they would do with the swimming pool fund in event the people refuse to transfer it for use in repairing the water system.

Owing to the leaking conditions of the gas main between Broad and Commercial street, the city council voted to give the P. G. & E. company permission to tear out the old main and install a new one. However, it will be done in such a manner as not to interfere with traffic and the repaving will be rigidly supervised.

The question of cleaning out one of the reservoirs was discussed. It was decided to obtain figures on the cost of renting a drag line from the N. I. D. for this purpose, but action will be deferred probably until after the vote on the swimming pool fund.

Mayor R. J. Bennetts, and Councilmen Wade Armstrong voted for the resolution to call an election. Councilman Al Seamon refused to vote and Councilman Fred Worth was absent.

The following bills were allowed:

PALM SUNDAY

Next Sunday, April 9th at St. Canice Catholic church, plams will be blessed and distributed to the congregation before the second mass.

Judge Henry B. Neville, of the Sierra county Superior Court, visited the Nugget office yesterday morning and renewed old acquaintence.

Beer, No Longer Near, Goes On Sale Today

There's beer for breakfast this morning for all those who care for an early morning invigoration with 3.2 alcohol therein and plenty of suds on top. This beer is no longer near. It's here and A. W. Sauvee of the Union Ice Delivery rolled into town this morning with a truck load of bottled beer and casks of brew, that he loaded after midnight in Sacramento. The flags that were flown yesterday were not celebrating the advent of beer, but were raised in observance of Army Day, proclaimed by Governor Rolph.

The 1933 beer is said to be better than formerly manufactured and it will also cost more than it did 13 years ago when the style in beverages was changed by contsitutional amendment. Pints will cost 20 cents.

The wholesalers license cost $50 per annum and the retailer must pay $25 per annum. As yet the Nevada City council has taken no action toward collecting a city license for the sale of non-intoxicating (so declared by Congress) beer. The legal question, of course, of whether a license can be charged for the sale (?) alcoholic drink, has already been settled. If Federal and state governments can charge a license fee, it follows, as daylight follows darkness, that municipalities can do likewise.

Ernest Schrieber of the Schreiber Cafe will dispense Acme beer beginning this morning. Ed Stambaugh and W. Polkington of 107 North Pine street, respectively retailer and wholesaler has fitted up a new refreshment establishment and will sell Golden Glow beginning today and Schlitz within a very short time.

Judge Oscar Winburn, Justice of the Peace in Grass Valley, however, states that anyone having a license to sell soft drinks can also sell beer.

Judge Winburn utters a warning against the return of the saloon. He states:

"The prohibition pendulum is swinging ,and it is up to us to see that it does not swing too far in the opposite direction. The open saloon should not return, but caution must be used to forestall such a calamity. The matter should not be left to the anti-saloon league of any special group. The discretion and common sense of the people should take the matter in hand and keep the return of alcohol within reason."

Nugget Opens A Straw Ballot On Pool Fund

The following ballot may be cut out, marked, mailed to, or left at the Nugget office. No names of voters, if known, will be divulged. The result will be announced progressively in each issue of the Nugget.

To transfer the Swimming Pool Fund of $11,000 to the city water Fund, for use in repairing the city's water system.

TAX SLASH APPEALS

Considering the low assessed valuation of property in Nevada county, the taxes paid are not high. To compare rates here with elsewhere is futile unless due weight be given to assessed valuation. But in Nevada County as elsewhere the farming industry is struggling under the burden of taxes. In good times the farmers, here as elsewhere, have sold their horses, bought tractors and automobiles, built new houses, and in some few cases paid off debts. In bad times the farmer finds himself overburdened. It was ever thus.

In this county farming is always a precarious occupation. Soil, topography and climate make it more hazardous than in the level, rich stretches of the Great Valley. This is not to deny the superior excellence of fruit grown in the Sierra foothills, the better color, flavor and keeping qualities.

But, by and large, the farmer here cannot average so much profit per acre as those in more favored sections.

Now comes a group of farmers, under the title of the Nevada County Tax Committee, with a chairman, C. J. Rolph, who pays no county taxes whatever, and appeals to the Board of Supervisors for various reductions in the cost of government, among which the chief reduction asked is a slash of 20 per cent in the salaries of county officials.

We feel that this tax cutting game has been played long enough. It has gone so far that a little further in the schools, for instance, will resullt in reducing the teaching profession to mediocrity, and in governmental functions, in handing over administrative offices to pound-master mentalities. We do not want our superior judges bracketed in the same income class as day laborers. It requires a long process of education and training and experience to make good judges, physicians or school teachers, and we believe that professional offices should be well paid, in good times or bad, because at all times we expect the best service and the advice trained minds can give us.

As regards the administrative offices of the county, the salaries now paid were fixed in 1907. There have been no salary raises in all those years. The salaries are not now excessive even considering the higher purchasing value of the dollar, and during the good years before the war, they were low. No group of prosperous farmers then appeared to ask the Supervisors to raise the salaries of county officials.

Probably the farming industry never has been very prosperous, as an industry, in this county. Dr. Tickell, county physician, commenting the other day on the petition of the Tax Committee, stated that in his memory farmers of the county, generally, had always been in difficulty. It is not the leading industry of the county. Under these conditions the tail can hardly expect to wag the dog.

If, as the committee chairman states, the farms of this county are bearing a disproportionate share of the tax burden, the farmers have recourse to an appeal to the Supervisors, sitting as an equalization board, to reduce their assessed valuations. It is quite possible in the general shake-up the depression has given all values, that assessed values on agricultural lands are too high as compared with other kinds of property. An equalization appeall would seem to offer the best and the most just method of relieving the farmers' burden.

Any saving, even a 20-per cent cut, in the salaries of the county officials, would mean so little ,spread out thin over farm valuations, and so much in the living of the few officials whose salaries would be thus rigorously docked, that the whole proposal smacks of the impractical and futile.

In any event, action by the supervisors in respect to granting such an appeal, would seem to be untimely. For, in the state legislature now in session, there are numerous bills pending, which have in view tax relief for the farm industry. And until the legislative grist is ground no one can know whether any action by county boards of supervisors toward reducing government costs, will be necessary or not.

"Never Say Quit"

When funds are low and bills are high;
You forget to smile, for you can't help sigh,
And when family cares are pressing you a bit,
You feel like saying: I want to quit.

And when things begin to look their worst,
You stop to think first;
That success is only failure turned inside out,
And you never can tell when success is about.

At times life seems queer with it's many twisted turns;
Which many of us have already learned;
But if we stick; and keep up the fight,
We shall only see the light.

So never say: "I quit" my friend;
Altho' the road is rocky and steep,
And getting ahead seem mighty slow;
But success will come with one great BLOW.

BERTHA JOY DELLEA

THE PAY STREAK

By H. M. L.

There is much talk of the "new deal." Each individual who talks about it, we notice, has a different conception of just what the new deal is to be. The farmer thinks of the new deal generally in terms of tax reduction, or, what would amount to the same thing, as tax equalization. By tax equalization, it is generally understood that all forms of property will bear an equal burden per unit of value and that the value will be stable.

The trouble generally is that values fluctuate, so that taxes equalized one year, in another year or two again become unequal. The farmer who is now paying, for instance $5 per acre in taxes, is paying on a basis of around $100 per acre in value. A good many farmers would be tickled pink to sell their land at that figure.

* * *

The producing mine owner thinks of the "new deal" as an era in which taxes on his production are not only reduced but also one in which restrictive laws relating to industrial insurance and compensation are shifted and moderated, and the burden more evenly shared between owner and worker. Organized miners, however, while demanding all the benefits of compensation are generally reluctant to have premiums for those compensation benefits reflected in a lower pay scale. The time is perhaps approaching when the state will devise an insurance system which will actually, as the present law was intended to do, compel each industry to carry the burden of its own maimed and killed, with the cost divided fairly between both employer and employe. Neither the employer nor employe, under a properly adjusted insurance system should be permitted to have their cake and eat it at the same time.

* * *

Business men, merchants and professional men, think of the "new deal" as a restoration of stable conditions. They do not, with occasional exceptions visualize a new order of society, a new monetary system, in which the currency values would reflect an average commodity index, and a dollar would always be worth a fixed amount in groceries and clothing.

Business as a rule looks forward to the day when normalcy will be restored, with special safeguards thrown around investments, trade, and banking, to prevent a repetition of these weary and unprofitable years, from which we are now emerging. In general he wants normal times again, with insurance against all the evils which the depression has uncovered.

* * *

Then there is a small and very intelligent group of people in the United States, many of them occupying university posts, but by no means all, who feel that the "new deal" will really be a new deal and not a new phase of the old deal. The Technorats belong to this van guard of "advanced" thinkers, who believe the old system of banking, merchandising, production and consumption, of profit and loss, is due for a general scrapping. These people believe that socially and economically the world is far behind its scientific advance. They are probing deep into the reasons for human distress in the midst of plenty, and finding that this lack of co-ordination between social and scientific aspects of life is the worm in the apple.

* * *

Up till August, 1929, it looked for a time as if the United States was entering an epoch which would really abolish poverty, and by one means or another, assure the aged, the weak the infirm, and the homeless children, of all those things which humanity dreams of giving but never wholly gives. Hoover in his great speech of acceptance in Stanford stadium voiced the national aspiration for that new dawn.

Instead we had the crash, the debacle, the retreat, and the long drawn-out depression. The great machine we builded had broken down. The idealists who visualize something altoge.her different from a mere resumption of normalcy, who wish mightly to leave the old machine on the junk pile, and start a fresh on a new and a safer road, giving maximum attention to human values and less to machine values, will probably be forced to compromise. For our guess is that the new deal, which in ten years perhaps, we shall be able to compare and contrast with the old deal, will be a compromise, of the old and the new. Russia in this century, and France in the 18th century, are of course, shining examples, of "new deals." But there is no parallel to be found, even remotely, in the condition of the United States, and those which made cataclysmic governmental changes possible in Russia and France. We shall proceed, one step at a time, in the good old Anglo Saxon way, by compromising what we have with what we desire .

American Heroines

By LOUISE M. COMSTOCK

"Captain Molly" Corbin

VARIOUS are the ways by which women have served their country during times of war. But one who actually shed her blood on the field of battle was Margaret Corbin, the "Captain Mollie" whose remains were recently moved from the J. P. Morgan estate at Highland Falls and reburied with military pomp in a spot of honor at West Point.

Margaret Corbin was undoubtedly the first woman so to distinguish herself on an American battlefield. During November of 1776 Colonel Robert Magaw with 2,000 Revolutionary troops was defending Fort Washington against the onslaught of the combined British forces under General Howe. By November 16 the greater portion of the American stronghold had been taken. Only the northern outpost remained, that section called Fort Tyron, a few fragmentary ruins of which may still be seen at One Hundred and Ninety-fifth street, in New York city. Against this the British sent their Hessian mercenaries commanded by Knyphausen. British batteries from an opposite hill opened fire, digging into the earthworks about the fort and protecting the Hessian soldiers as they streamed up the hill.

Manning one of the two cannon with which Fort Tyron answered this attack was a young Virginian, John Corbin, and beside him stood his wife Margaret, who had followed him to war and shared with him its perils. For three hours she stood there, helping him, watching comrades sink to death about them and the Hessians creep closer and closer. Then suddenly John Corbin fell, with a bullet through his breast. His gun was silent. But only for a minute. For there soon appeared on the ramparts a strange figure, a stalwart young woman in homespun, not Margaret Corbin now, but "Captain Mollie" Corbin, leaning over her dead husband to load his cannon and return the enemy's fire.

Weary minutes later she also was wounded, the cannon was silent once more, and Fort Tyron was taken. The British carried the wounded woman across the Hudson under a flag of truce, gave her hospital treatment, and released her under the stipulation that she should not again take up arms for America in the war. When the war was over, she was pensioned on a soldier's half pay and the value of a suit of clothes a year, and until her death at the age of forty-nine she was supported by the military establishment in a private home near West Point.

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 7—(UP)—The belief exists Governor Rolph is deliberately putting off the day he must act on the Inman investigationg committee report.

The governor has been accused of "stalling"—this because of his failure to respond to the first installment of the report which concentrates on Rolland A. Vandegrift, director of finance and Dr. J. M. Toner, director of institutions.

Although he has been assured the report is complete insofar as these two men are concerned ,the governor refuses to do anything, affirmative or negative, until he has the complete summation. And the final installment isn't even in the making.

In a word, the report is current Rolph is sparring for time on the theory public furore aroused by the Inman hearings will die a natural death. On which event, he would retain most of his cabinet intact.

Urban opposition against the Riley-Stewart tax plan is becoming more audible. Merchants, opposed to the transaction tax feature, are laying down a barrage of letters to assemblymen.

It is by no means a lead-pipe cinch the plan will go through the lower house. However, it stands a better than even chance at this writing. One prominent assemblyman put the thing in a nutshell. "I'm not sold on this plan. It has good points and bad. But I certainly want to give the people an opportunity to vote on it, unless a better alternative is offered. And I haven't seen one yet."

Arguments against the proposal are mounting. One is that a concern must pay the one per cent transaction tax whether it makes money or not. Thus a concern could operate at a loss and still be compelled to contribute.

Vandegrift has a special talent for running head-on into trouble. His fight with John Brennan, director of the veterans and military affairs department, and Eric Cullenward, assistant director of the department of public works, was entirely uncalled for. These men charged "Van" was trying to dictate departmental economies. Fact was, Vandegrift was merely assisting the assembly ways and means committee. A word of explanation should have sufficed. Instead the three staged a "Kilkenny cat fight" that disrupted the Rolph cabinet.

Much of this educational economy legislation that has zipped through the senate with such consumate ease, is headed straight for a fight in the assembly. In the lower house lies the hope of the so-called "school lobby." The assembly has already killed the senate measure withdrawing state school supervision. Other upper house bills are scheduled for the same fate. Some may not even get out of assembly committee.

Don't be startled if Vandegrift keeps his job, after all . . . and do be amazed if Toner sticks . . they are saying the bill permitting a person to name his party preference primary election day is to guarantee Hiram Johnson's re-election . . . It's almost a certainty Dr. George Sabichi will be transferred from Whittier school to the Pacific colony superintendency—Judge E. J. Milne, Los Angeles, would succeed him . . . latest to join the "about-to-be-fired" club is George K. Home, chief of the state narcotics division . . . and Home may actually go . . . the Governor insists he does not contemplate firing Mrs. Rheba Crawford Splivalo.

DIFFERENCE IN TASTE

Northern California Indians cannot understand the white man's palate, H. C. Roberts, Requa, told a fish and game committee. "You whites prize your shad and stripped bass. You think it's food fit for any table. Well, your Indian won't touch either one. He considers the stripped bass and shad unfit for human consumption."

OUT OF ORDER

Assemblyman Willard Badham won't welcome his next invitation to preside over the assembly. Badham occupied the speaker's chair during the absence of Speaker Walter J. Little and was promptly snowed under by a barrage of technicalities. Veteran legislators fired parlimentary questions at Badham until he was dizzy. Finally he was reduced to one answer: "You're out of order."

NORTH SAN JUAN

Mrs. F. M. HARRIS

NORTH SAN JUAN, April 4—For many years a familiar figure in San Juan has been "Smiley" the Chinaman who considered everyone his friend and never failed to greet everybody he met with his sunny smile. This winter Smiley has been very feeble and of late was nearly blind but refused to see a doctor or go to the county hospital because he had no money. Some days ago Mr. J. J. McCullough and others contrived by strategy to get him to the hospital where they left him trusting to the doctors and nurses and the Chinese cook to make him contented which they evidently succeeded in doing. Last Friday Mr. and Mrs. Homer and Miss Baylis called on him, Smiley being as pleased as a little child to see them. He was quite happy and told them of the various things which he enjoyed. Chief among them being the radio and the electric light in his room.

His one worry is where the money is coming from to pay for all this care and comfort and pleasure, and so far no one has been able to explain this to his satisfaction.

Smiley is past 80 though he is not sure of his exact age and no one else knows, but all are glad that he has kindly care in his declining years.

Mrs. Jimmie Russell and daughter Pauline and Mr. Jackson of Oakland visited Mrs. Russell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Holland over the week end.

Mrs. May Campbell, Miss Florence Hatcher, Mr. James Coughlan and Mr. Howlett, of Columbia Hill attended the funeral of Mrs. Curnow at the San Juan cemetery on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Dahlberg and Mr. Joe Fogarty of Hammonton, spent the week end with relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Fern Rundy of Sacramento were calling on friends in town on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris has been on the sick list for a week with the "flu."

Mr. and Mrs. Oden and friends of Reno, spent Sunday at their camp west of town.

Monday visitors in Nevada City were Mr. Phil Fodrini, Mrs. Wodell and Mike Denek. Mike, visited Smiley and took him a pair of slippers which greatly pleased him.

Mr. J. J. McCullough has received word from his son Will of Oakland, saying he was in a hospital where he had undergone a slight operation, was doing nicely and would be out in a week.

The election for school trustees took place on Friday p. m. Mrs. Gordon Kessler was elected.

PANDORA'S BOX

Absorbed by the necessity of making some vital ruling, Speaker Walter J. Little paid little attention to an envelope somebody handed him. Almost unconsciously he tore open the envelope and a rubber-spring butterfly soared into the air. The incident left the speaker a bit startled.

ELECTRIC RANGES give precious freedom

SIMPLIFY LIVING... LESSEN WORK

Simplified Cooking BY ELECTRIC TIME CONTROL BY ELECTRIC TEMPERATURE CONTROL

IF YOUR WIFE complains of being tired, or wishes she had time to spend in the garden, perhaps it's because, like so many women she is a slave to her kitchen.

For her good, consider this proposal. Do away with the need for your wife standing by a hot stove in hot summer weather, waiting and watching while meals are being cooked. Ask her if she hasn't wished many times for an electric range with electric controls that do the watching and waiting—give her precious freedom.

More than a million American women have turned to electric cooking. It wasn't that it was a new way to cook, it was a better way that made cooking more simple, more certain. Yes, and food cooked in an electric range tastes better, is more healthful. Less water is used and there is no boiling away of valuable minerals in vegetables, while meats are more flavorful, juicy and tender.

Why not carry out this sensible suggestion that will allow worth-while freedom that means greater health and contentment? See and select the electric range for your home at the nearest P.G. and E. office or in your electric dealer's store. Low prices and liberal purchase terms prevail on this year's electric range models.

YUBA RIVER CANYON COUNTRY

By J. L. WOLFF

The existence of the Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad spans the narrow gauge railroad history of the Pacific Slope. It was one of the first built and is one of the last to remain in operation. Fifty-seven years ago it was completed and two brand new engines started it off. Today they are still pulling trains. They have been converted from wood burners to oil burners, the old drum type smokestacks with their screens for catching cinders have been replaced by ordinary stacks, and the old kerosene headlights have given way to electricity. But otherwise they are still as they were, with the original copper plates still in place.

In the years that have passed, many things have happened along the line. One year a circus train was wrecked with a resultant confusion that is still vividly remembered by many old timers. The Kidder Mansion, home of the railroad's president, was the scene of many a gathering—in honor of prize fighters or governors. All received the same honors. In fact, it is still remembered when Governor Budd was being entertained by Kidder. A group of local guests, among them the late Dr. John Jones, got Governor Budd away from the house. A short time later they phoned from town that the Governor was down there with them and that they intended to "weigh him."

This was an old game in which a man would bet another that he could guess his weight by lifting him. If the bet was taken, he would take the victim's arms over his shoulders, lift him up and stoop over as if he was making an effort to judge the weight. In the meantime, an accomplice would step up and hit the man being weighed—sometimes with his hand but usually with a board. Needless to say Kidder flew to the Governor's rescue. At another time, the mansion received John L. Sullivan, who fought an exhibition match at Nevada City. Governor Markham was also entertained. It seems that no attempt was made to "weigh" either of the latter.

The Kidder mansion with its wonderful woodwork containing hardwoods from all over this nation, today serves as a rooming and boarding house. It still looks down on the railroad station as of old. But the extensive conservatory no longer harbors beautiful plants and flowers and the garden has lost its exclusive appearance, for the spirit of John Kidder grows fainter with the years.

A paved highway now extends to Grass Valley from Colfax, where the narrow gauge trains still make their daily connections with the Southern Pacific. A short distance from Colfax, Bear River is crossed on a concrete highway bridge. Looking upstream the high steel bridge of the Narrow Gauge spans the river—the highest trestle in California at the time of its construction. As the highway winds up out of Bear Valley it crosses underneath the railroad. Chicago Park is passed and a mile beyond the highway runs alongside the tracks.

For several miles the rail line is on one side or the other—just as it used to be in the Seventies. If the motorist is fortunate, he will see one of the original locomotives still pulling one of the original passenger cars. On the other hand, he may see the Casey Jones, a little gasoline engined flange wheeled passenger bus with a stubby little trailor hooked on behind.

Grass Valley is still the headquarters with its two story depot, long engine repair house, heavy stone valled blacksmith shop and other buildings dating back to the early days. Massive stone stairs still penetrate a still more massive stone wall for the passenger entering the station from Bennett Street, while across the street lies the little park that used to be the pride of Kidder.

During school term, the bulk of the passenger business consists of school children who commute to their homes out Peardale way. Otherwise the passenger business is today nearly at a standstill, excepting for a mild rush on dollar days—or when the fare is cut to a cent a mile. But freight still keeps the railroad going. Fifteen years ago the Standard Oil Company established a plant at Town Talk and today two other oil companies ship over the line—the gasoline engine knocked out the passenger business but the gasoline shipments keep the railroad going, boosting freight revenues to make the line self supporting.

Steam Shovel Favored Over Domestic Felicily

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3—(UP)—A steam shovel in Salt Lake holds more lure for Mike Morgan, 65, then domestic life with his wife Patricia.

"It's O. K. by me," observed Mike. "I've got a job waiting for me in Salt Lake on the swellest little steam shovel you ever saw. And I can get more comfort and affection out of a steam shovel than I can out of this lady."

GOURMANDS WEEP OVER POOR WINE

SACRAMENTO, April 6—(UP)—Legalized beer, wines and fruit juices of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content, joyously acclaimed by anti-prohibitionists, may call forth from the epicure only a tear in memory of pre-Volstead beverages.

Gourmands of the days before national prohibition became effective on January 16, 1920, sipped with their meals at least 14 varieties of red and white wines which averaged in alcoholic content from 8 to 10 per cent by weight, according to statistics of the California Grape Growers league. And many of the growers believe good wine, with a lesser percentage cannot be produced.

Enjoying the greatest popularity at the table before the advent of prohibition, according to the growers, were seven varieties of red wines and an equal number of white wines. These included, among the red types, claret, zinfandel, chianti, carignane, malbec, cabernet, and burgundy. The white varieties were Riesling, Hock, Chablih, dry sauternes, haut suternes, haut suternes and moselle. Champagnes, having an average of 9 per cent alcoholic content, also fell within the classification of light wines.

The beverages were served in varied manner, according to the taste of the dinner. White wines usually appeared with the fish; Riesling, moselle, dry sauternes or chablis with fresh oysters; Riesling with horsd'oeuvres; claret or chianti with entrees; burgundy, claret, cabernet or chianti with roasts; and haut sauternes or champagne with pastry, fruit or cheese.

LIGHT AND FORTIFIED

These red and white wines, according to the growers, were classified as "light wines" and rarely consumed outside the dining room.

On the other hand, it was stated, sweet wines, fortified by grape brandy for preservation purposes, averaged from 18 to 21 per cent alcohol, and were considered too heavy for use with meals. These included such wines as port, sherry, angelica, muscatel, madeira, tokay, malaga and marsala.

MISFORTUNE DOGS STEPS OF THIS MAN

REDDING, April 3—(UP) When it comes to getting the "breaks," H. Davis, Buckeye rancher, lays claim to receiving his full share—with reverse English.

He cites the following recent happenings as proof:

Worked 14 days digging a ditch to secure water, only to find he was not permitted use of the water.

On a trip to San Francisco, attacked by a man he had given a ride, and his car wrecked.

Mistaken for a bandit and kept in jail overnight as a murder suspect.

Fell, while replacing a stovepipe and fractured a rib.

It appears that senate members can't "take it." A bill which would have prevented the employment of relatives of public officials seemed to have a good chance at passage. Then it was amended so as to apply to relatives of all legislators as well. The bill did not pass.

LEGISLATURE IS DOWN TO WORK

SACRAMENTO, April 3—(UP)—The 1933 session is likely to develope a real shirt sleeve" legislature yet.

Evidence of this has been shown already, with the lawmakers getting down to real work earlier in the session than may ordinarily be expected. Usually the last three weeks is devoted to the real, hard work.

The senate, for instance, rolled up its collective sleeves and dived into the highly controversial matter of educational economy. When the smoke claered away the upper house had passed measures abolishing teachers' tenure, reducing by one-third the maximum taxes that may be collected by school districts; placing a maximum and minimum on county school taxes, and providing that county boards of supervisors may review county school budgets along with county superintendents of schools. A measure abolishing the division of research and statistics in the state department of education also was approved.

An administration plan to help finance school costs for the next biennium met defeat, however, when the senate constitutional amendments committee tabled a measure that would have released $12,000,000 from the perpetual school fund, derived from the sale of school lands, and made it available for general school purposes.

Another proposal by Governor J. Rolph to divert more than $8,000,000 from the gasoline tax fund was refused immediate consideration by the assembly roads and highways committee, members of which said that proposed tax changes may make the suggested diversion unnecessary.

The state-wide water plan finally is on its way. The assembly passed a constitutional amendment, by a vote of 69-4, which gives California the right to conserve water resources and represents the enabling legislation for the $160,000,000 project in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys.

The assembly continued to wipe out "dry" statutes on the books by passing a bill repealing the measure which makes possession of a still or any part of a still a felony.

Other "liberal" proposals such as reducing the period between an interlocutory and final decree of divorce from one year to three months received a negative vote.

NEXT PORT OF OLD IRONSIDES IS VALLEJO

Residents of Nevada City and other Nevada county communities will have an opportunity to inspect the U. S. Frigate Constitution when the Navy Department loans the historis old ship to Northern California at Vallejo, April 26 to May 2.

Invitations have been extended to this city in letters from Rear Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, Commandant of Mare Island Navy Yard, to Mayor Bennetts. Other letters of invitation, directed to school children of the community, have been received by the Couny Superintendent of Schools.

The Constitution, immortalized by Oliver Wendell Holmes as "Old Ironsides," will be tied up along the Mare Island sea wall ,and will be open to visitors between the hours of 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. daily. There is no charge and no formality in any way attached to visiting the old warship. The Navy Yard may be reached by way of th causeway, or by ferries from Vallejo, in accordance with the Admiral's invitation. It will not be necessary to obtain special permission to visit the Navy Yard.

DRY DELEGATION ACTS WET

The San Francisco delegation of nine is the "spark-plug" of anti-prohibition legislation in the lower house. And yet, according to Assemblyman Thomas Maloney, six of the nine bay members are personally "dry as the Sahara desert." Maloney failed to identify the trio who did indulge.

it's Smart TO TYPEWRITE AT HOME!

It's smart to typewrite at home — to typewrite office work, correspondence, records, lessons—a hundred and one writing tasks.

It's smart because it saves time and effort. Because results are invariably better.

AND it's smart to get the beauty, the durability, the easy operation of the Remington Portable—the greatest of portable typewriters.

Let us show you why—today. No obligation.

It Takes More Than Salts, Calomel, Mineral Waters, Oils, or Laxative Pills to Arouse a Sluggish Liver

They Give Only Temporary Relief From Constipation and Biliousness, Because They Have No Effect Whatever on the Liver or Its Production of Bile

Bile is nature's own laxative and your stomach and bowels require at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep them clean, pure, free from fermentation, putrefaction, gas and disease germs.

When your liver becomes torpid or sluggish the bile stagnates and stops flowing freely. The contents of your bowels become the breeding place for germs and poisons; your food does not digest—it just ferments and decays in the bowels. The blood absorbs these poisons and you suffer from constipation, gas, sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness and sour stomach.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills will remove the cause of this condition and purify your entire system in nature's way. They are not like any other medicine you have ever taken. They are so gentle, thorough and natural in their action that there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all you gradually reduce the dose until you no longer require a laxative at all.

Five years ago it was generally believed that calomel and laxative drugs stimulated the liver, but modern science has proved that calomel, salts, mineral waters, oils and other laxatives have no effect whatever on the liver.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills act directly on the liver because they contain two amazing substances which highest medical authorities agree are the only effective stimulants to the bile-producng activity of the liver known to modern science. These substances stimulate and invigorate the liver to cleanse and purify itself through increasing its production of bile. This fresh bile immediately starts to work neutralizing acids and poisons, stopping fermentation and decay, cleansing and purifying the bowels and sweeping out accumulated poisons.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of the effects produced by this natural cleansing of your liver and bowels. It makes you feel years younger, stronger, healthier and happier. It brings back life and color to faded eyes and cheeks, restores the appetite and sound digestion—gives you a new outlook on life itself.

Insist on genuine Sargon Soft Mass Pills. Don't be misled. There are only two known substances which will actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to cleanse and purify itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of these substances and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them.

Only 60c for a full 30-day treatment. At your druggist, or write G. F. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.

SHAFT DOWN 500 IN SRING HILL

At the Spring Hill mine, situated between Nevada City and Grass Valley, they have sunk the main shaft to the 500 foot level. A cross cut was made at the 500 foot depth and at present they have drifted 600 feet on a fissure vein. They have encountered a formation that encourages them to proceed with the work.

There are about 15 men employed at the property.

H. R. Plate is in charge of operations.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Foote, and H. R. Sprovey, of San Francisco, are guests of the National hotel.

WHY A NORGE REFRIGERATOR

NEW LOW PRICES

The famous Norge Electric Refrigerators are made by Borg Warner Corp., originators of free wheeling for automobiles.

The Norge Refrigerators are the most economical to operate. Every electric refrigerator must have a compressor. The Norge is different from all others. An ideal has been realized—the Norge Rollator compressor—just a roller revolving in a cylinder filled with oil. It is simple and practically everlasting. One of these has been running day and night, for 7 years in the Norge factory and is 1 per cent more efficient now than when first started. It improves with use.

There ar eonly three moving parts to the Norge Rollator. In this mechanism there are no pistons madly pumping up and down no piston rings to wear out, no crankshafts, connecting rods, piston pins, bushings, moving valves and frail parts to go wrong.

Because of its simplicity the Norge is the cheapest refrigerator to operate and by actual tests have used less electricity than others use. Only the Norge has the Rollator Compressor.

The entire refrigerator is planned for the convenience of the user. The food compartment is at waist height. The large interior is entirely lined with white porcelain. Every corner insides is rounded. The outside is finished in the same high quality material and workmanship.

The Norge is destined to function unfailingly for years and years, producing results, more than paying for itself in lowest cost operation and preservation of foodstuffs.

Big Audience Enjoys "The Big Cheese"

A great deal of praise has been given Music Instructor Leslie Sweeney for the excellent manner in which he trained the high school students in the three act comedy, "The Big Cheese," presented before a large audience Tuesday evening in the Nevada City Theatre. He made excellent choice in casting the different characters and assigning roles, all students acting their parts most creditably.

The high school orchestra also received its share of praise for the well rendered music given between acts.
